1. Working Hours and Attendance Policy

1.1 Standard Working Hours

The standard working hours for full-time employees are 9:30 AM to 6:30 PM, Monday through Friday.

Employees are expected to complete eight working hours per day, excluding a one-hour lunch break.

1.2 Attendance

Employees must record their attendance through the company's attendance management system.

Employees who arrive more than 15 minutes after their scheduled start time must inform their reporting manager.

1.3 Remote Work

Employees may work remotely up to two days per week with prior approval from their reporting manager.

Remote work approval depends on project requirements and business needs.

---

2. Leave Policy

2.1 Casual Leave

Every eligible full-time employee receives 12 casual leave days per calendar year.

Casual leave should generally be requested at least two working days in advance.

2.2 Sick Leave

Every eligible full-time employee receives 10 sick leave days per calendar year.

Employees may be asked to provide a medical certificate if sick leave exceeds three consecutive working days.

2.3 Earned Leave

Eligible employees receive 15 earned leave days per calendar year.

Earned leave requests should generally be submitted at least seven working days before the intended leave date and require manager approval.

2.4 Public Holidays

The company observes 10 public holidays per calendar year.

The HR department publishes the holiday calendar at the beginning of each calendar year.

2.5 Leave Approval

All planned leave requests must be submitted through the company's leave management system.

Approval depends on the employee's available leave balance, project requirements, and manager authorization.

3. Salary and Payroll Policy

3.1 Salary Payment Date

Employee salaries are paid on the last working day of each calendar month.

If the last working day is affected by a banking holiday or operational issue, HR and Finance will communicate the revised payment date.

3.2 Payslips

Employees can access their monthly payslips through the employee self-service portal.

Payslips contain salary components and applicable deductions.

3.3 Salary Deductions

Applicable deductions may include statutory deductions, employee-authorized deductions, and deductions permitted under company policy and applicable law.

Employees should contact the Payroll team if they identify an error in their payslip.

---

4. Probation and Confirmation Policy

4.1 Probation Period

New employees are subject to a probation period of six months from their joining date.

4.2 Performance Review

The reporting manager evaluates employee performance, attendance, conduct, and role-specific objectives during probation.

4.3 Confirmation

Successful completion of probation is subject to satisfactory performance and written confirmation from HR.

If additional evaluation is required, HR may communicate an extension in accordance with the employee's employment terms and applicable law.

---

5. Code of Conduct Policy

5.1 Professional Behavior

Employees must maintain professional behavior and treat colleagues, customers, and business partners respectfully.

5.2 Harassment and Discrimination

The company prohibits workplace harassment, bullying, and unlawful discrimination.

Employees may report concerns to HR or the designated grievance-handling authority.

5.3 Confidentiality

Employees must protect confidential company information, customer information, credentials, and business records.

Confidential information must not be disclosed to unauthorized individuals.

5.4 Company Equipment

Company laptops, devices, accounts, and other equipment must be used responsibly and protected from unauthorized access.

Employees must report lost devices or suspected security incidents promptly.

---

6. Work-from-Home Policy

6.1 Eligibility

Employees may request remote work subject to role suitability, project requirements, and manager approval.

6.2 Availability

Employees working remotely must remain available during their agreed working hours and attend scheduled meetings.

6.3 Data Security

Employees must use approved company systems and follow company security requirements when accessing company information remotely.

Sensitive company information must not be stored on unauthorized personal devices or shared through unapproved services.

---

7. Resignation and Notice Period Policy

7.1 Notice Period

The standard notice period for permanent employees is 60 calendar days, subject to the employee's employment agreement and applicable law.

7.2 Resignation Submission

Employees must submit their resignation in writing to their reporting manager and HR.

7.3 Handover

Before leaving the company, employees must complete the assigned knowledge transfer, return company property, and hand over relevant work and documentation.

7.4 Exit Formalities

HR coordinates exit formalities and the final settlement process in accordance with company policy and applicable law.

---

8. Employee Grievance Policy

8.1 Raising a Grievance

Employees may submit workplace concerns or grievances to HR through the designated email channel or employee grievance portal.

8.2 Acknowledgment

HR aims to acknowledge a grievance within two working days.

8.3 Resolution

HR aims to provide an initial update within seven working days. Complex cases may require additional investigation and time.

8.4 Confidentiality

Grievances will be handled with appropriate confidentiality, subject to the requirements of a fair investigation and applicable law.

---

9. Learning and Development Policy

9.1 Training

Employees may participate in company-approved training programs related to their role and professional development.

9.2 Training Approval

Training requests require manager approval and depend on the available budget and business priorities.

9.3 Knowledge Sharing

Employees are encouraged to share relevant learning with their teams through presentations, documentation, or technical discussions.

---

10. IT and Information Security Policy

10.1 Password Security

Employees must use strong passwords and must not share their passwords with other people.

10.2 Multi-Factor Authentication

Employees must enable multi-factor authentication on company accounts wherever it is supported and required by company policy.

10.3 Security Incidents

Suspected phishing emails, unauthorized access, malware infections, or data leaks must be reported promptly to the IT or Security team.

10.4 Access Control

Access to company systems must be limited to authorized users and the permissions required for their job responsibilities.
